

C.W. Lumsden did plan alterations of most Upper Canada military buildings standing as of 1823

Pl. 30: An 1823 plan of the Officers' Brick Barracks and Mess Establishment (left) and the Junior Officers' Barracks or Blue Barracks (right). The 1815 Brick Barracks survives to this day while the Blue Barracks is represented at Fort York by a 1930s reproduction (but which contains a significant quantity of original materials in its construction).